1	In the future, I feel like there needs to be greater communication with the internship sites about expectations and also creating projects/assignments that are intellectually stimulating. Even when I pressed my supervisor for more work, he didn't really give me any. Overall, it just felt like the organization was not ready to take on an intern, albeit three (two from CET, one from another program). Furthermore, actually acquiring an internship stressed me out, as I didn't have a finalized placement until maybe a week into the program.	11/9/2025 11:13 PM
2	Did not get my first choice of with a public health related internship but still enjoyed my second placement. I do not think it'll help me much in terms of career development but I got to learn more about women's rights and laws relating to gendered violence in Taiwan.	11/4/2025 5:26 AM

1	The cleaning service often felt invasive and insufficient (ie mopping floors but not cleaning drains, toilets; vacuuming but never emptying the vacuum bag); it would be preferable to have some sort of opt-in or opt-out system in place.	11/10/2025 4:17 AM
2	A/C was a little spotty	11/10/2025 1:09 AM
3	My one complaint would be the cleaning service. They didn’t appear to actually clean anything, even in the spaces they were suppposed to clean. Given the option, I would rather not have people coming over randomly if they are not actually cleaning. Overall, I did have a very positive experience with our living space, however, and I really liked our apartment. It was just the cleaning service.	11/7/2025 10:59 PM
4	My roommates and I wish our bedrooms were less tight and we had more storage space.	11/6/2025 10:15 AM
5	Maybe more transparency about how small some of the rooms are beforehand. It all worked out but seeing if after traveling for some long and then not realizing how small the apartment would be was initially really overwhelming.	11/5/2025 2:14 AM
6	I found the apartment to be too tight. Having only one washer and a small space for laundry was very difficult. It was also hard to get quiet time to do work or sleep early without forcing roommates to go outside.	11/3/2025 12:10 AM

16	Don’t worry about trying to do everything, and instead try to focus on doing things that particularly interest you.	11/10/2025 4:19 AM
17	Speak more Chinese!	11/10/2025 3:37 AM
18	Do the cultural activities by CET	11/10/2025 1:12 AM
19	Try as many new things as possible, and don’t be afraid during the first couple of weeks to just go up to people and ask if they want to hang out!	11/9/2025 11:18 PM
20	Really try super hard to immerse yourself in the environment and speak as much chinese as possible	11/9/2025 10:56 PM
21	Don't stress just do what your interested in and have fun.	11/9/2025 10:22 PM
22	Study study study!	11/9/2025 10:05 PM
23	Try to be open to meeting people and communicating with everyone clearly. You never know what experiences may open up to you!	11/9/2025 10:01 PM
24	Take as few electives as possible	11/9/2025 10:43 AM
25	Balance time there isnt much	11/9/2025 10:41 AM
26	Talk to your local roommates as much as possible	11/9/2025 10:39 AM
27	Take an intensive language track!!	11/9/2025 6:23 AM

28	Speak in Chinese as much as you possibly can, even with fellow exchange students. It’s a good idea to encourage it and set goals and rules with each other, and play games to make learning fun!	11/9/2025 5:16 AM
29	Make each day full. If you have a morning class, do something after class don’t just go back to your apartment. Explore Taipei or even leave Taipei and just do something	11/9/2025 4:42 AM
30	Make sure to sign up for as much stuff as possible, and just get out of the house.	11/8/2025 6:24 AM
31	Try to make friends early	11/8/2025 12:12 AM
32	Say yes to everything you can, it’s better to try something and not like it than to wonder whether you would have liked it	11/7/2025 11:02 PM
33	Don't be afraid to test your Chinese speaking especially at restaurants and tbh anywhere	11/6/2025 10:50 AM
34	be open to new experiences and don’t be afraid to go explore alone.	11/6/2025 10:17 AM
35	Solo travel!	11/6/2025 8:59 AM
36	Go out and do things even if you are tired!	11/5/2025 11:54 PM
37	Travel a lot, but don’t expect to only speak Chinese even if you take the language pledge	11/5/2025 3:39 AM
38	Don’t take the mountains for granted	11/5/2025 3:28 AM
39	h	11/5/2025 3:21 AM
40	to manage expectations and be prepared to exercise good communication skills	11/5/2025 2:24 AM
41	It’s okay to be upset, feeling like you’re missing out is completely normal, but sometimes you need to listen to your body. There is always next time, next weekend, next trip, it’s okay to take time to yourself	11/5/2025 2:17 AM
42	Make the effort to go out with people in CET and your language partner, and understand that it's ok to take a day off every once in a while too.	11/5/2025 1:40 AM
43	Talk to as many people as you can even if it’s just for 30 seconds	11/5/2025 1:22 AM
44	Try at least one new thing per week	11/4/2025 10:31 PM
45	Be willing to put yourself in unfamiliar situations early on without worry of embarrassment (specifically in regards to using Chinese)	11/4/2025 10:27 AM
46	Rest when you need to; don’t ambitiously think you can work and play every hour of the day. Sleep well and eat well, and do the same things to relax as you do at home.	11/4/2025 9:08 AM
47	Get involved in activities outside of class	11/4/2025 9:06 AM
48	Remember to plan for heavy course load	11/4/2025 7:41 AM

1	You all are lovely people, and I really adore you guys. Thank you for being the best!	11/9/2025 5:16 AM
2	Nope!	11/8/2025 6:24 AM
3	Nope! Just that I am very grateful to the resource/support system you all have been! CET is truly a special program:)	11/3/2025 1:51 AM
4	I feel like the housing situation was the most difficult. Beyond just being tight, I feel like I was not matched well with my roommates. Other than that, I wish the program had been longer, but I know it is hard to accommodate that.	11/3/2025 12:42 AM
